1997-98 PREVIEW

Chris Weller begins her 23rd season at the helm of the Terrapin program filled with enthusiasm and excitement for the challenges that lie ahead in the 1997-98 season. Weller, a relentless worker and teacher of the game, begins the season with a new coaching staff. In addition, she returns six letterwinners from a team that finished third in the Atlantic Coast Conference and participated in the NCAA Tournament last season.

as a top scorer in the game. The Terps welcome three newcomers who will add depth to a bench that became thin at the end of last season due to injuries.

The 1997-1998 version of the Terps will be more experienced and versatile. With the versatility, Coach Weller will make opponents match-up against the strengths of the Terrapins. "We may not be deep in numbers but we have several players that can play different positions," says Weller. "We will play tough, solid defense and have the flexibility to move players around the court."

position and has the ability to bring the ball up the court. She has played in 84 games with 77 starts, including Maryland's last 57 contests. The Baltimore native enjoyed her best season as a Terp last year, averaging a career-high 10.5 points and 3.8 assists per game. Always around the ball, Chase not only produces offensively but defensively as well. Named the team's "Defensive Stopper" by the coaching staff last season, Chase draws the opposition's best player to defend. In her 84 career games, she averages 2.6 steals per game and 32 minutes of play.

The 1997-98 team returns five players with starting experience, including three seniors. The senior class consisting of Sonia Chase, Stephanie Cross and Kalisa Davis entered Maryland in 1994 in what was considered one of the top recruiting classes in the nation. These seniors will be looking to make their mark nationally this season. Sophomore Tiffany Brown will run the point position after gaining valuable experience last season, and redshirt junior Kelley Gibson, recovering from knee surgery, is poised to assert herself

Returning Players

Frontcourt

Seven players return from last season's NCAA Tournament participant team, including the senior class of Chase, Cross and Davis. Coach Weller will be looking to these stalwarts to lead the Terps.

Chase is a versatile athlete who can play either the guard or small forward

Cross fell just three points short of becoming the seventh Terp in school history to record 1,000 points as a junior. The Spencer, N.C., native led the Terps in scoring (11.9) and rebounding (6.7) last season and has the range to hit the 15 foot jumper. A tough force in the paint, Cross recorded a career-high 188 rebounds and shot 46 percent from the field. She scored in double figures in 21 games and recorded four double-double games last season. With her physical play inside the paint and ability to hit the open jumper, Cross will again be one of the Terps' top scorers and rebounders.

Voted the "Most Improved Player" last season, Davis shot an incredible 59 percent from the field and was the team's second leading scorer, averaging 10.9 points per game. Davis improved her scoring average nearly four points per game from her sophomore season. Davis, a 6-2 center, is a tough physical player around the basket. The Glassboro, N.J., native came on strong at the end of last season and shot 73 percent (45-62) in Maryland's last eight games of the season. In those eight games she averaged 13.1 points and 4.6 rebounds, including a 22-point performance at No. 21 Clemson.

"We have very strong leadership in our senior class," says Weller. "Stephanie and Sonia are our co-captains this season and they will provide the leadership and intensity we need to be successful."

Redshirt junior Rachel Cimmier returns to the squad after missing last season with a knee injury. At 6-2, Cimmier's height and good shooting touch will be of value coming off the bench.

Branka Bogunovic is the tallest woman to ever play basketball at Maryland. Standing 6-8, the Serbia native has worked hard in the off-season to improve her jumping ability and foot speed, as well as her shooting touch. Just her presence alone in the lane can alter an opponent's shot.

"Branka will make a significant contribution at center — she is really coming into her own," says Weller.

Backcourt

Ball handling duties will lie in the capable hands of sophomore Tiffany Brown. As a freshman, Brown broke the school mark for made (48) and attempted (134) three-point shots in a season in 1997. The Clinton, Md., native currently stands second on the all-time list for three-point shooting at Maryland.

Brown played in all 28 games last season with 10 starts. Her college debut came against Penn State in Maryland's season-opening game and she responded with 12 points on four-of-seven shooting from beyond the three-point line. Not only does Brown have the ability to pull-up and take the three-point shot, but she has tremendous passing skills. The 5-6 guard sees the floor very well and was second on the team in assists with 68.

Brown was the team's fifth leading scorer last season, averaging 8.6 points per game, and that average jumped to 9.8 in conference play. One of Brown's best games came at fifth-ranked North Carolina when she scored 21 points, grabbed five rebounds and dished out four assists.

After returning from a season-ending injury in 1995, redshirt junior Kelley Gibson's 1997 season ended prematurely on January 30th when she suffered a knee injury against Florida State. Gibson, a well-rounded and gifted athlete, played in 19 games with 14 starts and was the team's fourth leading scorer. Like Chase, Gibson has the athleticism to play either the guard or small forward position. She is an exceptionally explosive offensive player who has good range with her jump shot and will take the three-point shot.

"Tiffany is a national level player and will see a lot of time at the point guard position this season," says Weller, "and Kelley, coming off knee surgery, will give us a great boost offensively and defensively."

Newcomers

The list of newcomers for Coach Weller include: Meghan McIntyre, Antonieta Gabriel and Michelle Miller.

McIntyre signed in the early signing period and is considered one of the Top 60 players in the nation. A 6-1 forward, McIntyre led Mainland High School (Linwood, N.J.) to a 22-5 mark and the championship of the Cape Atlantic League. McIntyre averaged 15 points and 9.4 rebounds per game.

University of D.C. transfer Antonieta Gabriel started 24 games last season and averaged 8.5 rebounds per game for the Firebirds. Miller, a three-sport athlete in high school, will add depth to the backcourt as a walk-on.

New Assistant Coaches

Maryland begins the 1997-98 season with two new assistant coaches: Christy Winters and Lisa Cermignano.

No stranger to College Park, Winters returns to the Terp program after playing professionally overseas and coaching at George Mason. Winters graduated from Maryland in 1990 and her name still highlights the record book. Cermignano graduated from George Washington and was a member of last season's Colonial team that advanced to the Elite Eight.

"I'm very excited about the new staff," says Weller. "Christy is familiar with this program and brings her Final Four and ACC Championship experience to our team and Lisa was a fine player at George Washington last season."

The Schedule

Maryland's non-conference schedule includes participation in three tournaments; the ECAC Holiday Tournament hosted by Holy Cross, the Dial Classic at College Park and the St. Peter's Tournament. Some of the teams competing include: South Carolina, New Hampshire, Harvard and in-state rivals Howard and Mt. St. Mary's. Maryland also plays at Rutgers and hosts Penn State early in the season as the Terps prepare for conference action.

Playing the tough competition that makes up the Atlantic Coast Conference can prepare any team for the NCAA Tournament. The ACC sent a record six teams last year, a credit to the competitiveness and high caliber of play within the conference. "There aren't any easy games in our conference," Weller says, "it's just part of competing in the ACC. You need to be mentally and physically prepared to play every game."

the COACHES

Head Coach

CHRIS WELLER

- Fifteen National Tournament appearances.
- Three Final Four appearances.
- An unprecedented eight Atlantic Coast Conference Championships.
- Listed among the Top 25 coaches in the nation in terms of career victories ... and the list goes on.

These are just a few of the accomplishments Chris Weller and the Terrapin program have attained in her 22 years of coaching at Maryland. Entering her 23rd season, Weller has registered a 432-208 career-mark at her alma mater while accomplishing many remarkable achievements ...

- Became only the fifth coach to earn at least 400 victories at a single institution.
- Terrapins have been ranked in the Top 10 nationally nine times and the Top 25 on 14 ocassions.
- No. 1 ranking in the nation.
- Ten Sweet 16 appearances.

In addition to Weller's accomplishments, several of her players have experienced personal success as well. The Terrapin program has produced five Olympians, three Kodak All-Americans, 28 athletes who have participated on national teams and five players currently active in professional basketball. But Terrapin success goes far beyond the basketball court - it extends into the classroom as well. Since 1980, all but one athlete who finished her eligibility earned a diploma. This is a tribute to Weller's high expectations for her student-athletes both on and off the court.

Taking over the program in 1975 from Dottie McKnight, success came quickly for Chris Weller. The Terps produced a 20-win season her first year and advanced to the EAIAW Regional Tournament. The following season she coached the Terps to a final season ranking of 13th, the first of eight consecutive seasons the Terps finished ranked in the Top 20. In 1978 the Terps recorded a 27-4 record, won the first-ever Atlantic Coast Conference championship and advanced to the AIAW Final Four in Los Angeles, Calif. Maryland went on to win four more conference championships in the following five years along with its second trip to the Final Four in 1982. From 1976 to 1982, the Terps recorded five 20-win seasons and compiled a 151-46 mark.

Maryland advanced to the Sweet 16 in both 1983 and 1984 and the Elite Eight in 1988. The 1989 squad won a school record 29 games that included a 21-game win streak, advanced to the Terps' third Final Four appearance and finished fifth in the Associated Press poll. Maryland averaged a school-record 85.3 points per game in 1989, outscoring its opponents by an average of 19 points per game. Weller was named the Atlantic Coast Conference and American Sports Foundation's Coach of the Year in 1989.

Ranked 15th in the 1992 preseason poll, the Terps reached the No.1 ranking in both the Associated Press and USA Today polls for the first time in school history. On January 21, with a record of 15-1, the Terps garnered the top spot and stayed No. 1 through February 11. During that stretch, the largest crowd to ever witness a regular season ACC game took place when the No. 1 Terrapins met the second-ranked Virginia Cavaliers before a sellout crowd of 14,500 at Cole Field House. Maryland finished the season with a 25-6 mark and a final ranking of No. 8. Weller was honored by the press and coaching fraternity for her efforts in 1992. She was recognized as the Naismith National Coach of the Year, the Basketball Writer's Association of America Coach of the Year, as well as the Atlantic Coast Conference Coach of the Year.

Weller's basketball knowledge and coaching expertise has extended beyond the confines of Cole Field House. She was an assistant coach for the U.S. National Jones Cup Team in 1985 and the head coach of the U.S. Select Team in 1986, 1992 and 1994. Weller is also a chairperson of the NCAA Legislative Committee and has served on the Kodak All-America and U.S. Olympic Committees.

A 1966 Maryland graduate, Weller was a four-year varsity letterwinner in basketball and also participated on the swimming and lacrosse squads. Following graduation, she taught and coached at John F. Kennedy High School in nearby Silver Spring, Md.

A popular speaker and teacher of the game, Weller returned to Maryland for her master's degree in 1973 and became an assistant for two seasons under Dottie McKnight. In 1975 the Weller dynasty began as she was elevated to head coach at her alma mater.

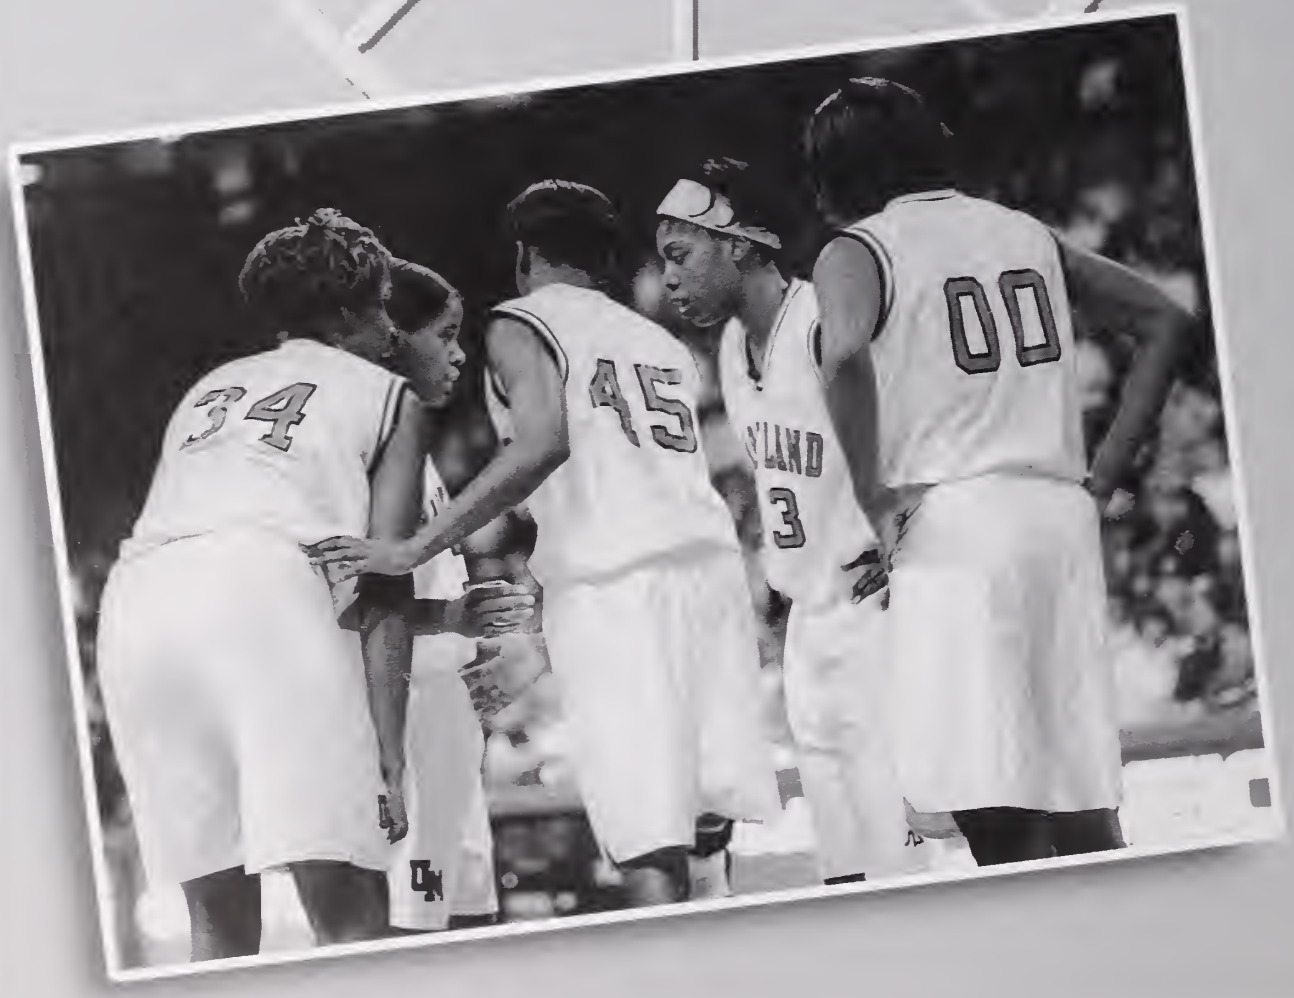
the YEAR in REVIEW



1996-97 REVIEW & HIGHLIGHTS

The Maryland Terrapins made believers of many last season with an 18-10 mark, a third-place finish in the Atlantic Coast Conference and a trip to the NCAA Tournament. Picked to finish sixth in the preseason conference poll, the Terps finished third with a 9-7 record for its best finish since 1993. The Terps also returned to post-season action with an at-large bid in the Mideast Region.

The spirit, fight and competitiveness of the 1997 team was evident in the season opener against the 15th-ranked Penn State Lady Lions. The Terps built a 10-point halftime advantage and held it late into the game, but Penn State converted two free throws with 11 seconds remaining for the 67-65 victory. Stephanie Cross led the Terps with 14 points and seven rebounds while Tiffany Brown, in her college debut, knocked down four three-pointers for all 12 of her points.

Maryland quickly put the Penn State loss to bed and went on to win nine consecutive games. Included in the victories were two tournament championships; the Rutgers Brother Holiday Tournament in Piscataway, N.J., and the Dial Classic at College Park. Cross was the MVP at the Brother Tournament and Kelley Gibson was selected to the all-tournament team. Cross averaged 15 points and four rebounds while Gibson averaged 10.5 points and 6.5 rebounds. In the Dial Soap Classic, Sonia Chase was selected MVP after she averaged 14 points and 7.5 rebounds. Brown scored 23 points in the two games and was named to the all-tournament team.

Also in the streak was a 72-53 win over then-20th ranked Clemson at Cole Field House. Kalisa Davis led the Terps with 17 points and 11 rebounds against the Tigers. Maryland's nine game win streak came to an end at the beginning of January. The Terps dropped games to conference foes Georgia Tech, North Carolina and Virginia. But again the Terps rose to the occasion and won their next six games, including wins over ranked Duke and NC State in a span of six days.

Maryland defeated three ranked teams, including a season sweep of Clemson. The Terps defeated No. 14 Duke, 68-64, No. 15 NC State 54-51, and No. 20 Clemson, 72-53 at Cole Field House and 70-64 at Littlejohn Coliseum. The win over 21st-ranked Clemson at Littlejohn Coliseum closed the season and gave the Terps a third-place finish in the conference, their best since 1993's second-place record of 11-5.

Top: Stephanie Cross led the Terrapins in scoring for the third consecutive season last year.
Bottom: Kalisa Davis led Maryland in field goal shooting, hitting 58.7 percent of her shots.

The Terps made their 15th appearance in the National Tournament, gaining an at-large berth in the Mideast Region where they faced the Purdue Boilermakers in Norfolk, Va. Cross recorded her fourth double-double performance of the season, netting 13 points and grabbing 13 rebounds in Maryland's 74-48 loss to Purdue.

- Sonia Chase was named to the Honorable Mention All-Atlantic Coast Conference team and Tiffany Brown was selected to the All-Freshman team. Chase led the Terps in steals (59), assists (105), and was second in rebounds, averaging 6.4 boards per game. Chase's 10.5 points per game was a career high. Brown averaged 8.6 points per game and was second on the team with 68 assists. Brown was the fourth consecutive Terrapin freshman selected to the All-Freshman team in the last four seasons.
- Freshman Tiffany Brown broke the season mark for made and attempted three-point shots, hitting 48 of 134 for a shooting mark of 36 percent. Brown is second on the all-time list in both categories trailing only Carla Holmes. Brown trails Holmes' career 75 made three-point shots in 199 attempts.
- Stephanie Cross led the team in scoring and rebounding, averaging 11.9 points and 6.7 rebounds, while Kalisa Davis was the team's leading shooter, hitting 59 percent of her field goals. Cross has led the Terps in scoring for three consecutive seasons, averaging 11.5 points as a freshman, 13.2 as a sophomore and 11.9 last season. Cross has scored 997 points in her career and fell three points shy last season of becoming the seventh Terp in school history to reach the 1,000 point plateau as a junior. Davis finished the season on fire, hitting 34-of-44 shots for a 77 percent shooting mark
- The Maryland defense was the stingiest in the nation for the month of January. The Terps ranked No. 1 in the nation in scoring defense, holding the opposition to 55.6 points per game. The Terps finished the season ranked ninth in the nation and No.1 in the ACC in scoring defense.

THE ATLANTIC COAST CONFERENCE

A Tradition of Excellence

The Tradition — Consistency. It's the mark of true excellence in any endeavor. However, in today's intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 45th year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

Since the league's inception in 1953, ACC schools have captured 59 NCAA and AIAW championships, including 27 in men's competition and 32 in women's. In addition, 100 men and 24 women have earned the coveted title of NCAA champion.

ACC Basketball — If success is best measured in terms of wins and losses, then the ACC is unrivaled in NCAA history. The men's and women's basketball programs have combined for 15 trips to the Final Four in the last 16 years, and 36 appearances overall. Following the North Carolina women's national championship season of 1994, the first-ever for the league, ACC teams have claimed eight titles while finishing second on ten occasions.

The league's women's basketball program ranks among the best in the country in terms of overall NCAA Tournament appearances. With 63 appearances and 76 wins, the conference is listed second best in total appearances and third in total wins.

ACC basketball is more than numbers though. The faces behind the men's and women's programs have accounted for 24 national player of the year honors and 17 national coach of the year awards. In women's play, the ACC has produced 19 first-team All-Americans, eight Olympians, including coaches and student-athletes.

The ACC also stands at the forefront of intercollegiate athletics in terms of academic accomplishments of its' student-athletes. Since 1983, 201 women's basketball players have received ACC Academic Honor Roll recognition. The 1996-97 academic year included 43 selections. In addition, ACC basketball players have earned first-team Academic All-America honors six times.

The Championships — With the addition of women's lacrosse, the ACC conducted championship competition in 24 sports during the 1996-97 academic year — 12 for men and 12 for women.

The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball. swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women's sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship meet being held in tennis at Wake Forest University, October 6-8. Conference championships for women are currently conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse and softball.

1996-97 Review — The 1996-97 academic year concluded with the league pocketing three more national team titles and four individual NCAA crowns. In all, the ACC has won 26 national team titles in the last seven years.

The ACC placed at least one team in the Top 10 nationally in 16 of the 24 sports sponsored by the league. Other records of note during the 1996-97 season include 84 teams competing at NCAA championships, four bowl teams and 35 Top 10 showings.

The ACC Academic Honor Roll record was broken for the 12th-straight year in 1996-97 as 1,549 student-athletes were recognized for their work in the classroom.

A History — The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C., with seven charter members — Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest — drawing up the conference by-laws.

The withdrawal of seven schools from the Southern Conference came early on the morning of May 8, 1953, during the Southern Conference's annual spring meeting. On June 14, 1953, the seven members met in Raleigh, N.C., where a set of by-laws was adapted and the name became officially the Atlantic Coast Conference.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted the University of Virginia. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971, when the University of South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The conference operated with seven members until April 3, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The conference expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State.

the UNIVERSITY

President WILLIAM E. KIRWAN

After 25 years of service as a professor and administrator at the University of Maryland at College Park and following a national search, Dr. William English Kirwan was appointed president of the university on February 1, 1989. He served as acting president of the university from August 1, 1988, until the time of his appointment as president.

Dr. Kirwan joined the university in 1964 as an assistant professor of mathematics. He rose through the faculty ranks as associate professor (1968-1972), professor (1972-present), and chair of the Department of Mathematics (1977-1981).

In 1981, he was appointed vice chancellor for academic affairs, College Park's chief academic post. As vice chancellor, Dr. Kirwan raised admission standards, increased the number of merit scholarships and graduate fellowships, and established an academic planning process.

During his tenure as president of the university, Dr. Kirwan has played a pivotal role in all of the university's most significant initiatives, including: an increased emphasis on undergraduate education; selective enhancement of academic programs; recruitment and retention of distinguished faculty; achievement of diversity goals for underrepresented minorities; and the successful completion of the university's first capital campaign.

Dr. Kirwan is known for his ability to see beyond the institution's day-to-day problems, and for his talent as a consensus builder among the large and diverse campus community. Under his leadership, the university undertook a major restructuring of its academic organization, going from a divisional system to a more traditional system of colleges and schools. Subsequently, when the state's economic decline forced a reduction of this university's budget, he oversaw a streamlining of the university's academic offerings through the elimination of a college, seven departments, and 32 degree programs.

Dr. Kirwan is a member of various honorary and professional societies, including Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, the American Mathematical Society, and the Mathematical Association of America. He is the co-editor of the book Advances in Complex Analysis, and the author of many published articles on mathematical research. He served as an editor of the Proceedings of the American Mathematical Society from 1977 to 1985. He chaired the Mathematical Sciences in the Year 2000 Committee, a task force created by the National Research Council (NRC) to improve mathematics education at the nation's colleges and universities during the next decade, and he was a charter member of NRC's Committee on Undergraduate Science Education.

Dr. Kirwan is a member of numerous boards, including the Presidents Council of the Ford Foundation, the Board of Directors of the American Association of Colleges and Universities, the Council for International Exchange of Scholars (the Fullbright Program), the World Trade Center Institute, the Baltimore Council of Foreign Affairs, the Greater Washington Board of Trade, and the Suburban Maryland High Tech Council. He was recently elected to the Board of Directors of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges (NASULGC), and to the Presidents Commission of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). He also is past chair of the NASULGC's Commission on Oceans and Atmosphere.

Among other volunteer activities in the community, Dr. Kirwan chairs the Prince George's County Board of Education's Citizens Advisory Committee, and chaired the County's 1996 United Way Campaign. He also serves on the Board of Directors of the Maryland Citizens for the Arts.

Because of his contributions to higher education, he was named Officer in the Order of Leopold II by the Belgium Government and elected to the University of Kentucky's Hall of Distinguished Alumni. He recently received the World Trade Center Institute's prestigious Governor's Award as the State's International Leader of the Year.

Noted for his enormous energy and long work days, Dr. Kirwan regularly finds time to teach an undergraduate class. Whenever possible, he schedules time to enjoy classical music concerts and tries to find an hour or two each week to escape to a convenient tennis court where he is known as a very competitive tennis player.

Dr. Kirwan is married to Patricia Harper of Lexington, Kentucky. They have two children: a son, William E. Kirwan III, a Washington architect who earned his baccalaureate and master's degrees from the university, and a daughter, Ann Elizabeth, who also graduated from the university with a degree in journalism.

DIRECTOR of ATHLETICS

Deborah A. Yow has led Terrapin athletics back to balanced budgets, to a high level of productivity, and to a vigorous commitment to excellence throughout its operations.

When she was appointed as Maryland Director of Athletics in 1994, Deborah Yow began immediately to set higher standards of administrative efficiency, more effective budget controls, better customer service and old-fashioned hard work. She challenged the Terrapin Athletic Department to, "...raise our sights and sharpen our tools...to work hard and work smart...to recognize that our only limitations are those which we place upon ourselves."

Yow launched a tenacious drive towards five strategic goals for Terrapin Athletics:
1) Generate significantly higher revenues through increased corporate sponsorship, aggressive marketing and more effective fundraising.
2) Boost the graduation rate of Terrapin student-athletes to well above that of the general student population of the University, and careful compliance with ACC and NCAA rules.
3) Raise the level of competitive achievement nationally and in the Atlantic Coast Conference.
4) Develop a streamlined, highly effective athletics organization.
5) Provide outstanding customer service.

In the three years since that time, the Maryland Athletic Department has clearly responded and has taken the following significant strides:

- Has balanced all three of its budgets (first Terrapin balanced budgets in 10 years — 1984-1994).
- Increased graduation rates for student-athletes to almost 70%, above that of the general student population.
- After a four year drought in which Maryland did not win a single ACC tournament championship in any sport, in 1996-97 the Terrapins won an impressive FOUR (4) ACC tournament championships (in Men's Soccer, Volleyball, Women's Lacrosse and Softball).

In 1996-97 the Terps sent a remarkable 11 of its 24 sports teams to NCAA/postseason tournaments - the most in Terrapin athletics history in one season (Men's Basketball, Women's Basketball, Volleyball, Men's Soccer, Women's Soccer, Field Hockey, Wrestling, Women's Lacrosse, Men's Lacrosse, Gymnastics and Softball). The Women's Lacrosse team won the NCAA National Championship for the third consecutive season. Also, individual Terrapin athletes qualified for NCAA tournament competition in Men's Swimming and Cross Country — giving the Terps an enviable team and individual participation in 13 NCAA/postseason championship tournaments in 1996-97. This is a record which is not frequently achieved among the 306 NCAA Division I athletic programs in the United States.

- Has engineered the department from a debt-ridden, underachieving organization to a responsive and financially sound model — with a clear vision and a drive toward national prominence.
- Membership in the Terrapin Club has increased and department revenues from all sources have increased significantly.
- Marked improvement in employee production.
- Formed an employee "Committee on Quality in the Workplace" — to recommend initiatives to improve working conditions and to design programs to recognize the value of our athletics employees.
- Accelerated the push to improve facilities throughout athletics.

Across all sports, our Terps gained a prestigious national ranking in the upper 10% of all NCAA Division I athletics programs during 1996-97 — the highest ever in this comprehensive national ranking (at the end of the Fall sports season of seven men's and women's teams, Maryland was ranked No. 3 nationally).

The thorough and rigorous NCAA Certification Review of University of Maryland athletics rated the department with a strong approval rating, citing the strength of leadership, fiscal management and the soundness of its Title IX plan, among its numerous strengths.

The past three years have been a period of notable improvement and strengthening for Maryland athletics. The Terrapin ship still faces strong headwinds, but is no longer battered by the storm of insolvency and indirection. Indeed, over the past three years the $6.8 million accumulated debt (prior to 1994) has been reduced to $4.9 million, and the $41 million facilities debt has been stricken to $34 million. In the ACC and across the nation, the Maryland athletic program is seen as strong and highly competitive. The ship is now on course and is steadily picking up speed.

Recently, Yow shared the following observations with the Council of Deans at the University of Maryland: "We run a tight ship in Maryland athletics. We are fully committed to balanced budgets, high academic achievement, competitive excellence and outstanding customer service. We will not accept less of ourselves. We are focused on becoming one of the top 10 athletic programs in the nation every year. That is our vision and our uncompromising goal."

In that presentation, Yow concluded by saying, "We have the finest coaches, support staff and administrative team in America. It is because of their courage, hard work and cooperation that we now have a strong, viable athletic program. I am immensely proud of each of them. I am equally proud of our Terrapin fans who buy tickets and our Terrapin Club members who faithfully support the Maryland athletic program with their donations for scholarships. We have a great Terrapin family. That's the foundation for all our successes ... and the basis of our bright future."

Yow, who is a member of the NCAA Management Council and other prestigious national committees and groups, is a leader in collegiate athletics today. With this goal-oriented, proactive professional leading Terrapin athletics, the University of Maryland clearly has one of America's more capable and respected athletic directors.

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

Danita DeHaney
Senior Associate Athletic Director

Danita DeHaney and the Maryland colors go well together — her involvement with College Park athletics goes back almost two decades.

DeHaney assists the athletic director in the overall administration of the athletic department, including performance management, staff development, and outcomes assessment. She oversees the supervision of 22 varsity sports, and directs a department-wide Continuous Quality Improvement program. She also assists in the solicitation of gifts for the capital campaign, coordinating her efforts through the Athletic Advancement Office. In addition, she serves as the department's equity officer.

A cheerleader as a undergraduate, she was elected as the captain of the squad her senior season. She earned her Bachelor's Degree from the College of Business and Management, with a concentration in personnel and labor relations, in 1981.

For 11 years prior to her appointment at Maryland in June, 1995, she worked for Learning International of Stamford, Conn., as a senior executive designing, implementing and selling to America's leading corporations training systems to improve organizational performance.

Jamie Pollard
Associate Athletic Director for Administration

Jamie Pollard serves as the chief financial officer for the Department of Athletics and is a Certified Public Accountant. He is responsible for overseeing the business and facility operations of the department. In addition, he supervises nine intercollegiate sports (baseball, wrestling, golf, cross country, and men's and women's indoor and outdoor track).

Pollard received his Bachelor's Degree in Accounting from the University of Wisconsin at Oskosh and immediately went to work as a staff accountant at Arthur Andersen & Co. in Milwaukee. In 1989, he was appointed Associate Director of Athletics for Business and Finance at Saint Louis University where he oversaw finances and directly supervised six intercollegiate sports. He assumed his present position at Maryland in September of 1994.

Pollard is an outstanding distance runner, having won the 1987 NCAA 5,000 meter championship and earning NCAA All-America status.

Jamie and his wife, Ellen, have one child, Thomas.

Patricia Nicol
Assistant Athletic Director/Senior Women's Administrator

Patricia Nicol's outstanding competitive record, as an administrator and a student-athlete, brought her to Maryland as Assistant Athletic Director for seven sports, and as Senior Women's Administrator. Nicol came to Maryland after a successful tenure as Associate Athletic Director and SWA at Providence College from 1990-96.

Nicol now has the responsibility of overseeing 13 of the most successful sports at Maryland. She is in charge of the nationally ranked women's lacrosse, soccer, volleyball and field hockey teams, the nationally ranked men's lacrosse team and men's soccer teams and the nationally recognized women's basketball, gymnastics and women's softball teams. The MARYLAND EDUCATIONAL FOUNDATION

Endowment gifts to Terrapin Athletics, through the Maryland Educational Foundation offer financial growth keeping the Terps successful into the future. While concern for today's financial needs are great, the MEF recognizes the importance of preparing for a healthy future for the athletic department.

The MEF concentrates on generating planned/deferred gifts for the endowment of the Terrapin athletic family. This focus is vitally important to the development of the financially secure future for the program.

There are a variety of ways a donor can contribute to the endowment program. Cash gifts may be made to the MEF with designation of the gift to the scholarship fund or for capital improvement. Other gifts may be made through securities and stock, real estate or personal property, bequests, life insurance and charitable remainder trusts.

For more information about the MEF, please call Greg Manning in the Athletic Development Office at (301) 314-7020.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT

Demetrius Marlowe

Assistant Athletic Director for Academic Support and Career Development

Demetrius Marlowe is in his first year at Maryland as Assistant Athletic Director for Academic Support and Career Development. Marlowe oversees and directs the academic support unit for all student-athletes, coordinates the departmental drug testing and drug education programs and directs the implementation of a comprehensive career development program for all of Maryland's student-athletes.

Marlowe comes to Maryland from Syracuse University where he served as the Academic Coordinator for football for two years. At Syracuse, he was responsible for the management of all academic support services for the football program. His duties included the development, implementation and evaluation of pre-season orientations, study tables and tutorial services, the development and monitoring of continuing eligibility and academic progress toward degree processes. In addition, his contribution to Syracuse University has led to one of the country's first NCAA/CHAMPS Life Skills program for student-athletes. He also worked as an academic counselor at the University of Notre Dame.

Marlowe has worked in an environment which sustained a student-athlete graduation rate of 85 percent and has been described as one of the "most innovative leaders in forwarding the mission of the National Association of Academic Advisors for Athletes."

Don Pearman

Assistant Director of Academic Support

Don Pearman is in his fifth year at College Park but his experience in the University System numbers six years. Pearman works directly with the women's basketball team on a year-round support system. He formerly was program director of the Meyerhoff Scholarships at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County. A model program of minority recruitment in the fields of mathematics and science, the Meyerhoff program is widely emulated. In the Academic Support Unit (ASU), Pearman is responsible for post-graduate scholarship endeavors, the unit's tutorial program, and he monitors six varsity sports. Pearman is a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., and received both his bachelor's degree in sociology and his master's degree in counseling from St. Lawrence University.

Academic Support

The University of Maryland considers intercollegiate athletics an integral part of the collegiate experience. Its existence provides an opportunity for students, faculty, alumni and students to share in the life of intercollegiate athletics.

The Department of Intercollegiate Athletics strives to achieve the same standards of excellence in its athletics program as exist within the University's teaching, research and public service programs. The department embraces the concept that the student-athlete is first and foremost a student, possessing academic abilities, personal interests and ambitions comparable to those of the other members of the student body.

Terp Tutors

Teaching Excellence and Recognizing the Potential for Success targets local elementary and middle school students and helps those who may be struggling in the disciplines of reading and math. Student-Athlete volunteers visit local schools and provide free tutoring services. The program is designed to reach out to the community and help young people improve their school skills, self-esteem and awareness of the world around them.

Terp Choices

Terp Choices is a program designed to guide student-athletes by orienting, supporting and increasing awareness of relevant issues pertaining to student-athletes in today's world. The focus of the program is making personal choices and how they may affect an entire team, not just a single individual. Education and interactive workshops are presented to the athletic team and are led by student educators.

The Mentorship Program

The Terrapin Career Mentorship program involves an alumni based group of individuals who are interested in working with graduating student-athletes. The mentors aid students through the process of making the transition from college to the work world. Attempts are made to match the individual student-athlete with a mentor from the same field of interest. Mentors are asked to assist the student-athlete in preparing the necessary tools to make him or her a more competitive job seeker.

Internship Program

The Internship Program is offered every spring to student-athletes who have earned 40 and 80 credits. The goal is to secure local summer internships for all interested student-athletes in an appropriate field of study.

The Partnership Program

The Terrapin Partnership Program is made up of a group of faculty and staff members at the University of Maryland who are interested in working with student-athletes who have just begun the process of earning a college degree. Volunteers are matched with freshman or sophomore student-athletes so that they can develop a primary contact person with whom they can share their questions or concerns about campus life, home life and academics.

Career Information Fairs

Career Awareness in Academic Support is expanding to include a variety of programs which will be offered for student-athletes throughout the semester. Career awareness will be an ongoing process and will include assistance with resume writing and interview skills. The end of the semester will bring a career awareness fair which will host a number of professionals with whom student-athletes can learn about career interests and planning. Unlike typical "job fairs", the purpose of this program is to allow student-athletes to explore multiple career opportunities by speaking directly to individuals in their chosen area of interest.

Team Maryland

Team Maryland is a class taught in conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership in which student-athletes are exposed to leadership and public speaking skills and techniques. The program consists of a group of volunteer student-athletes who learn about the challenges for children in the community by speaking to different elementary schools about drug abuse and the importance of education.

In conjunction with the campus' Center for Political Leadership, participants are taught leadership skills and public speaking techniques to use in their school-based presentation. In addition to school visits, Team Maryland has hosted visits from local schools to our campus.

The story noted that Maryland's academic programs are, "one of the most advanced of the breed," with "separate dormitories where they can live if they choose, lectures by academic and political stars, attractive internships in the Washington area, limits on class size and a host of carefully planned courses, many interdisciplinary and taught by the university's senior professors."

The UNIVERSITY of MARYLAND

History of College Park

Just after the American Revolution, the state of Maryland established its first two colleges at Chestertown and Annapolis. By the 1850s, at least 30 little colleges had sprung up over the state, many with state support, but many of them disappearing within a few years. Then in 1859, a different kind of institution appeared at College Park—the Maryland Agricultural College—the third such college in the world, created mainly for farmers' sons. The college was established by Charles Benedict Calvert, a wealthy planter from nearby Riversdale—now Riverdale—and later a congressman. Calvert built a handsome Gothic dormitory-classroom structure located in a grove of trees near the present Morrill Hall, and he divided the land down the Baltimore-Washington Turnpike into small plots where each of the 50-or-so students experimented with a different crop. After the Civil War, the institution became a land-grant college, with small appropriations from Washington. The little college began to grow in about 1900 when agricultural experiments began to bring prosperity to Maryland, and when the college expanded its offerings into engineering, business and the liberal arts. In 1912, the old Gothic building burned, and the state provided modern structures. Women were admitted to the campus, and graduate work began. In 1920, the college combined with the long established professional schools of Baltimore and changed its name to the University of Maryland. Growth accelerated after 1935 when the politically astute football coach, H.C. "Curley" Byrd, became president, added scores of new programs, and won national football championships. In the 1950s and 1960s, President Wilson H. Elkins maintained the rapid growth and College Park became one of the largest campuses in the nation. President Elkins, a Rhodes Scholar, transformed the institution's public image to one of high academic integrity. In the 1970s and 1980s, the University's graduate and research programs flourished. In 1988, the General Assembly of Maryland combined six state colleges with the five campuses of the University of Maryland, and specifically charged College Park with the role of leadership in the revamped system.

Picture a university so comprehensive that it offers degrees in 98 disciplines, so technologically advanced that it manages specially-designed research facilities not found on any other campus in the country and boasts a telecommunications system which serves as a model for universities worldwide. And, at the same time, it is a university concerned enough to include special housing matched to student interests and to ensure that half of all undergraduate classes have fewer than 30 students.

That's a snapshot of the University of Maryland, College Park, a member of the University system of Maryland.

The UNIVERSITY of MARYLAND

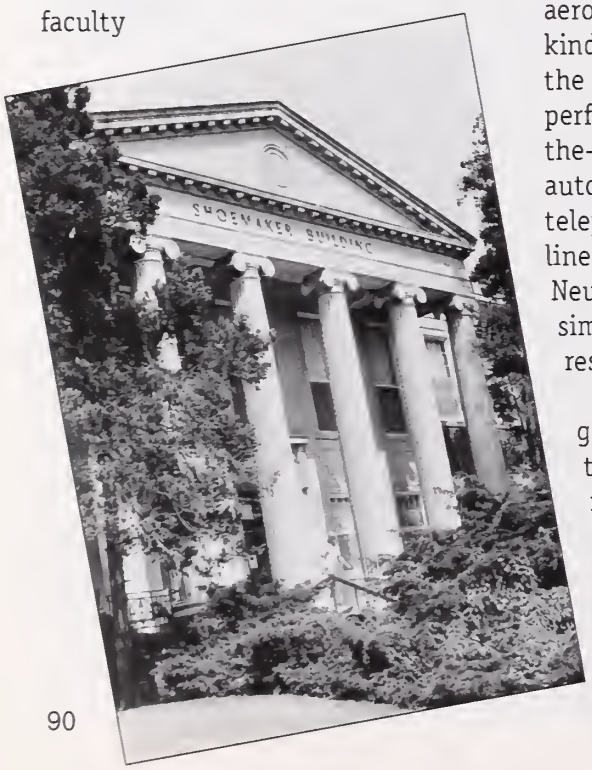
The University at College Park

The University of Maryland at College Park serves as the state's primary center for graduate study and research, provides undergraduate instruction across a broad spectrum of academic disciplines and extends its vast intellectual resources to the community through innovative projects designed to serve individuals, governments and the private sector throughout the state of Maryland, the nation and the world.

Today's comprehensive public research university for the state of Maryland had its origin in 1859 as the Maryland Agricultural College, the third such state institution in the world. It became one of the nation's original land-grant institutions in 1862. The state assumed authority in 1920, joining College Park with the professional schools in Baltimore to form an expanded University of Maryland.

With students and faculty drawn to Maryland from all 50 states and 110 countries, College Park is home to a rich mix of social, intellectual and cultural perspectives.



Among public research universities in the Association of American Universities, College Park ranks first in percentage of African-American undergraduate students. Also, the university has the largest number of African-American and other minority faculty members among its peers. Such facts, illustrate College Park's progress toward becoming a national model of diversity.

Rated as one of the 20 top-funded universities by the National Science Foundation, College Park is a national center of innovative scientific and engineering research. Such programs as the Engineering Research Center, the Institute for Systems Research and the Center for Global Change conduct ground-breaking studies on topics including global warming, robotics and sea-level rise.

Engineering's Glenn L. Martin Wind Tunnel is the most advanced aerodynamic testing facility of its kind on any university campus. In the wind tunnel, researchers perform airflow tests on state-of-the-art designs for such products as automobiles, aircraft wings, telephone cables, signs and power lines. Another one-of-kind is the Neutral Buoyancy Facility which simulates weightlessness for space research.

Recalling its founding as a land grant institution, 1994 marked the opening of the new Center for Agricultural Biotechnology, reflecting the College of Agriculture's new philosophy of sustainable agriculture.

Close to home, College Park

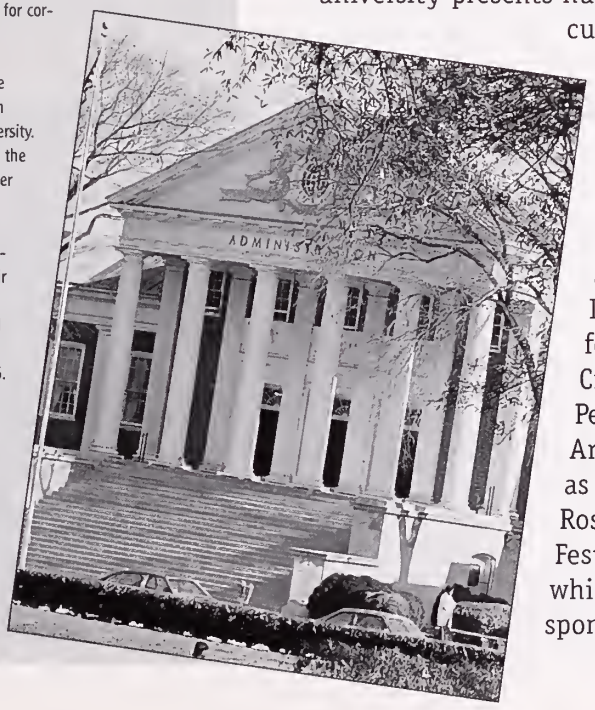
Of the 60 fellows elected to the National Academy of Science in 1996, two were from the University. Only seven other institutions in the U.S. had more than one member elected.

Charles Wellford, Faculty Representative for Athletics and Chair of the Department of Criminal Justice and Criminology, served as president of the American Society of Criminology in 1996.

The College of Journalism received a gift of $1.5 million from the John S. and James L. Knight Foundation of Miami to establish an endowed Knight Chair in Journalism. Maryland was chosen to receive the chair from a field of 35 journalism schools.



faculty and staff provide technical assistance to state and local governmental bodies and education systems, outreach programs in support of technology transfer and in-service or continuing education programs in areas such as computer science, engineering, business, journalism and education.

The University's efforts go far beyond the state's boundaries in developing economic opportunities and partnerships abroad for Maryland businesses and industries. A $16 million, three-year contract from the USAID to the university's Center for Institutional Reform and the Informal Sector (IRIS) is funding a project aimed at helping the leaders in the former Soviet Union establish a market economy.

Recognizing the importance of the Far East, the university is strengthening relationships with mainland China, Japan and Taiwan by forging new research, business and cultural ties to promote greater exchange of students and scholars.

From athletics to aesthetics, talent takes many forms at the University of Maryland, College Park. The university presents hundreds of cultural events annually. The campus is also home to the Summer Institute for the Creative and Performing Arts, known as the Rossborough Festival, which sponsors nationally and internationally recognized programs including the National Orchestral Institute and the International William Kapell Piano Competition.

Campus neighbors include such important national resources as the Library of Congress, the Smithsonian Institutions, the National Institutes of Health, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Center.

Close by is Maryland's historic state capital, Annapolis, also known as the sailing and seafood capital of the nation, a tribute to its Chesapeake Bay setting. The nearby Chesapeake Bay offers not only recreational diversions but the opportunity to study and conduct research aimed at sustaining the nation's largest esturaine system.

The MARC train offers public transportation from College Park to Baltimore's Camden Station, next door to where the Orioles play baseball in the heart of the historic city. And the highly efficient Metro system, with a new station at the campus doorstep, makes navigating the greater Washington, D.C. area easy.

Add all the accolades and, still, only a partial picture emerges because the University of Maryland at College Park is far more than the sum of its parts. With a student body increasing yearly in both quality and diversity, private support growing at a phenomenal rate and multifaceted research programs attracting record funding, it is clear Maryland's flagship institution ranks as a national resource.

COLE FIELD HOUSE

When college basketball was achieving its most explosive growth - from the late 1950s to the late 1970s - there was one college gymnasium on the East Coast that sat as many as 12,000 fans. Cole Field House epitomized the new big time, main event status of college hoops, the sport of network TV and emerging legends. It stands today as a building that faces cosmetic renewal over the next several years, but Cole's charisma will not be tampered with. There was not a bad seat on December 2, 1955, when it was dedicated in the men's game against Virginia, and there is not a better place to watch a game today. Only in a building like Cole, where history has been routinely made, can the fan feel the echo of tradition and experience the electricity generated by buzzer beaters and a thousand slam dunks.

Cole was dedicated as the Student Activities Center, a $3.3 million project that was erected under the tutelage of Board of Regents Chair, Judge William P. Cole, Jr., and President Wilson Elkins. A year after the dedication, the building was named in honor of Cole, who served the Board of Regents for 25 years.

Although Cole has remained the same basketball hall it was built to be, there have been refinements. Scoreboards were installed that not only tell the fan what the score is, but also how loud they are cheering. A new floor design reflects a modern era of basketball. Cole's seating also grew from its original base, and now 14,500 fans can cheer for the Red and White at any game.

As championships were awarded over the years, Cole got some of the very best. The 1966 and 1970 men's basketball Final Four were held here. In 1990, the first and second rounds of the eastern regionals were held in Cole Field House. The NCAA wrestling championships were held here in 1960, 1972, 1978, 1987 and 1990, and the NCAA women's volleyball championship took place here in 1990.

Cole Field House is home to most of the athletic department offices, and yearly hosts thousands who visit just to see where so much basketball history has been made.
